Through the Office for Dispute Resolution (ODR), the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE) fulfills its statutory mandate to maintain a special education due process system. PDE contracts with the Central Susquehanna Intermediate Unit (CSIU) to provide fiscal and certain management support for that office, without becoming involved in substantive operations. The Hearing Officers and Mediators are free from interference or influence on any matters affecting the outcome of individual mediations and due process hearings. This includes, without limitation, interference, or influence from any entity, individual, or group, such as parents, advocacy groups, school districts, intermediate units including CSIU, ODR staff, and PDE. At the same time, those Hearing Officers and Mediators are provided with administrative support, as well as training delivered in a manner preserving their impartiality through ODR, which itself is also free of such interference or influence.

The CSIU will not discriminate in educational programs, activities or employment practices based on race, color, national origin, gender, disability, marital status, age, religion, sexual orientation, ancestry, union membership or other legally protected classifications. Announcement of this policy is in accord with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Employees and program participants who have an inquiry or complaint of harassment or discrimination or who need information about accommodations for people with disabilities, should contact Director of Human Resources, CSIU, 90 Lawton Lane, Milton, PA, 17847 or call 570-523-1155.

FY 2025 ANNUAL REPORT

INTRODUCTION

This Annual Report contains dispute resolution information from the Office for Dispute Resolution (ODR). State complaint data from the Bureau of Special Education (BSE) is also included to provide comprehensive information on all special education dispute resolution options in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, whether by ODR or BSE.

The Office for Dispute Resolution provides resources for parents[1] and local educational agencies (LA/LEAs) to resolve educational disputes involving children served by the early intervention system, students with disabilities (or thought to have disabilities), and students who are gifted (or thought to be gifted). Pennsylvania's recognition as an "exemplar state" by the Office for Special Education Programs (OSEP) and the Center for Appropriate Dispute Resolution in Special Education (CADRE) is an acknowledgement of the experience, education, and training of ODR staff[2] and the quality of ODR services provided.[3] In addition to its website, publications, and videos, ODR remains in contact with its stakeholders through a listserv. ODR's listserv is available at https://odr-pa.org/subscribe-to-odr/.

The 2025-26 fiscal year saw an increase in all ODR services. Requests for due process hearings represented the smallest proportional increase by a significant factor, signaling a greater utilization of non-due process options for parents and schools to resolve disputes. For example, due process requests rose by 5.7% (900 to 951) while mediation requests rose 17.1% (555 to 650) over the same period of time. The biggest increase in ODR's services, however, is seen in IEP and resolution meeting facilitation. Facilitation is a state-level dispute resolution option in which a neutral facilitator helps families and school personnel communicate better with each other. Combined, IEP and resolution meeting facilitation increased by 49% (145 to 216). This change may signal a significant desire on the part of parents and schools to maintain clear communication and keep meetings on track before the need for more formal dispute resolution arises.

ODR's ConsultLine followed the same trend in FY 2025, serving 12.9% more constituents than in the prior year (2,939 to 3,318). Family Engagement Outreach, a process by which ConsultLine preemptively offers information to parents who are participating in facilitation, mediation, or a due process hearing without an attorney, represented a significant portion of that increase (142 to 456, or 221.1%). ODR continues to work with a research and evaluation consultant in analyzing the statistical data. ODR also continues to provide an array of services for stakeholders to choose from, which best meet their individual needs.

ODR Stakeholder Council

The ODR Stakeholder Council brings together representatives from a broad array of stakeholders to provide functional input and recommendations on the special education dispute resolution system.

Detailed biographical information on each member is available on the ODR website[4]. ODR, with its Stakeholder Council, remains committed to presenting the benefits of mediation as an effective dispute resolution tool, while continuing to recognize due process as an important procedural safeguard for parents.

Outreach

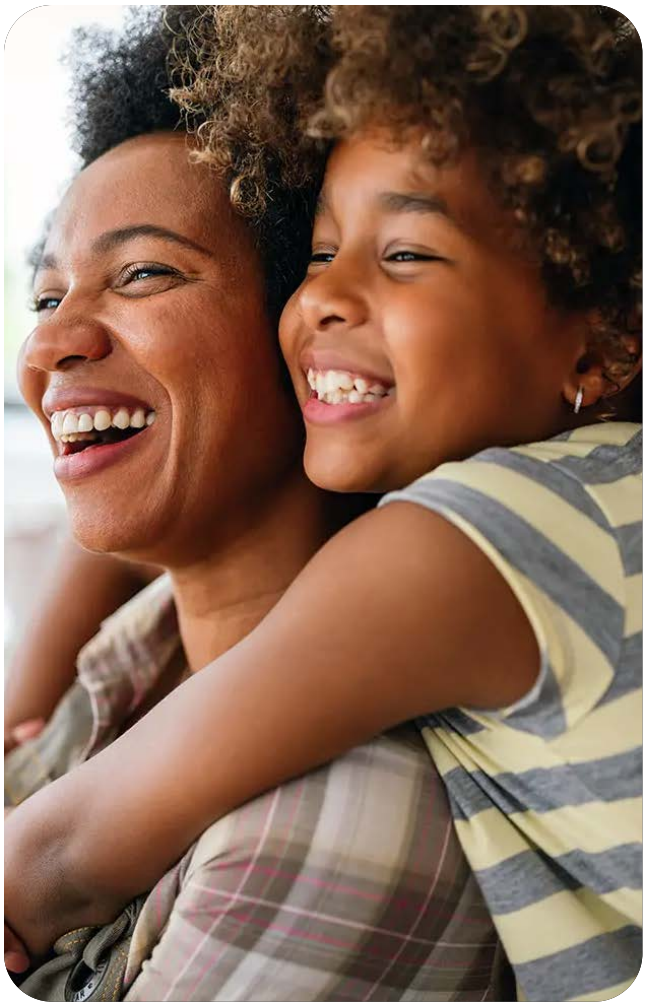

ODR frequently gives presentations to highlight its work, share information, and develop best practices at the local, state, and national levels. Examples this year include the National Academy of IDEA Administrative Law Judges and Hearing Officers; the Special Education Advisory Panel (SEAP); the Pennsylvania Department of Education Conference; and various Intermediate Units, School Districts, Local Task Forces, and parent groups. Hearing Officers and staff have also been invited to speak about dispute resolution procedures and options in teacher preparation courses for special educators. Again this year, ODR, CADRE, and the State of Oklahoma planned and co-sponsored a national Hearing Officer Academy. In addition to presentations, ODR staff participated as exhibitors at multiple conferences throughout the reporting period. Exhibit tables were hosted at the following events: Refugee Education Summit, Bridging Knowledge to Know-How Conference, Pennsylvania Bar Institute's Exceptional Children Conference, and the Pennsylvania Department of Education's Annual Conference.

Hearing Officer Training

Hearing Officers engage in rigorous professional development each year, both in-house and through highly regarded professional associations. The seminal training for the Hearing Officers each year is Exceptional

[4] https://odr-pa.org/stakeholder-council-bios/

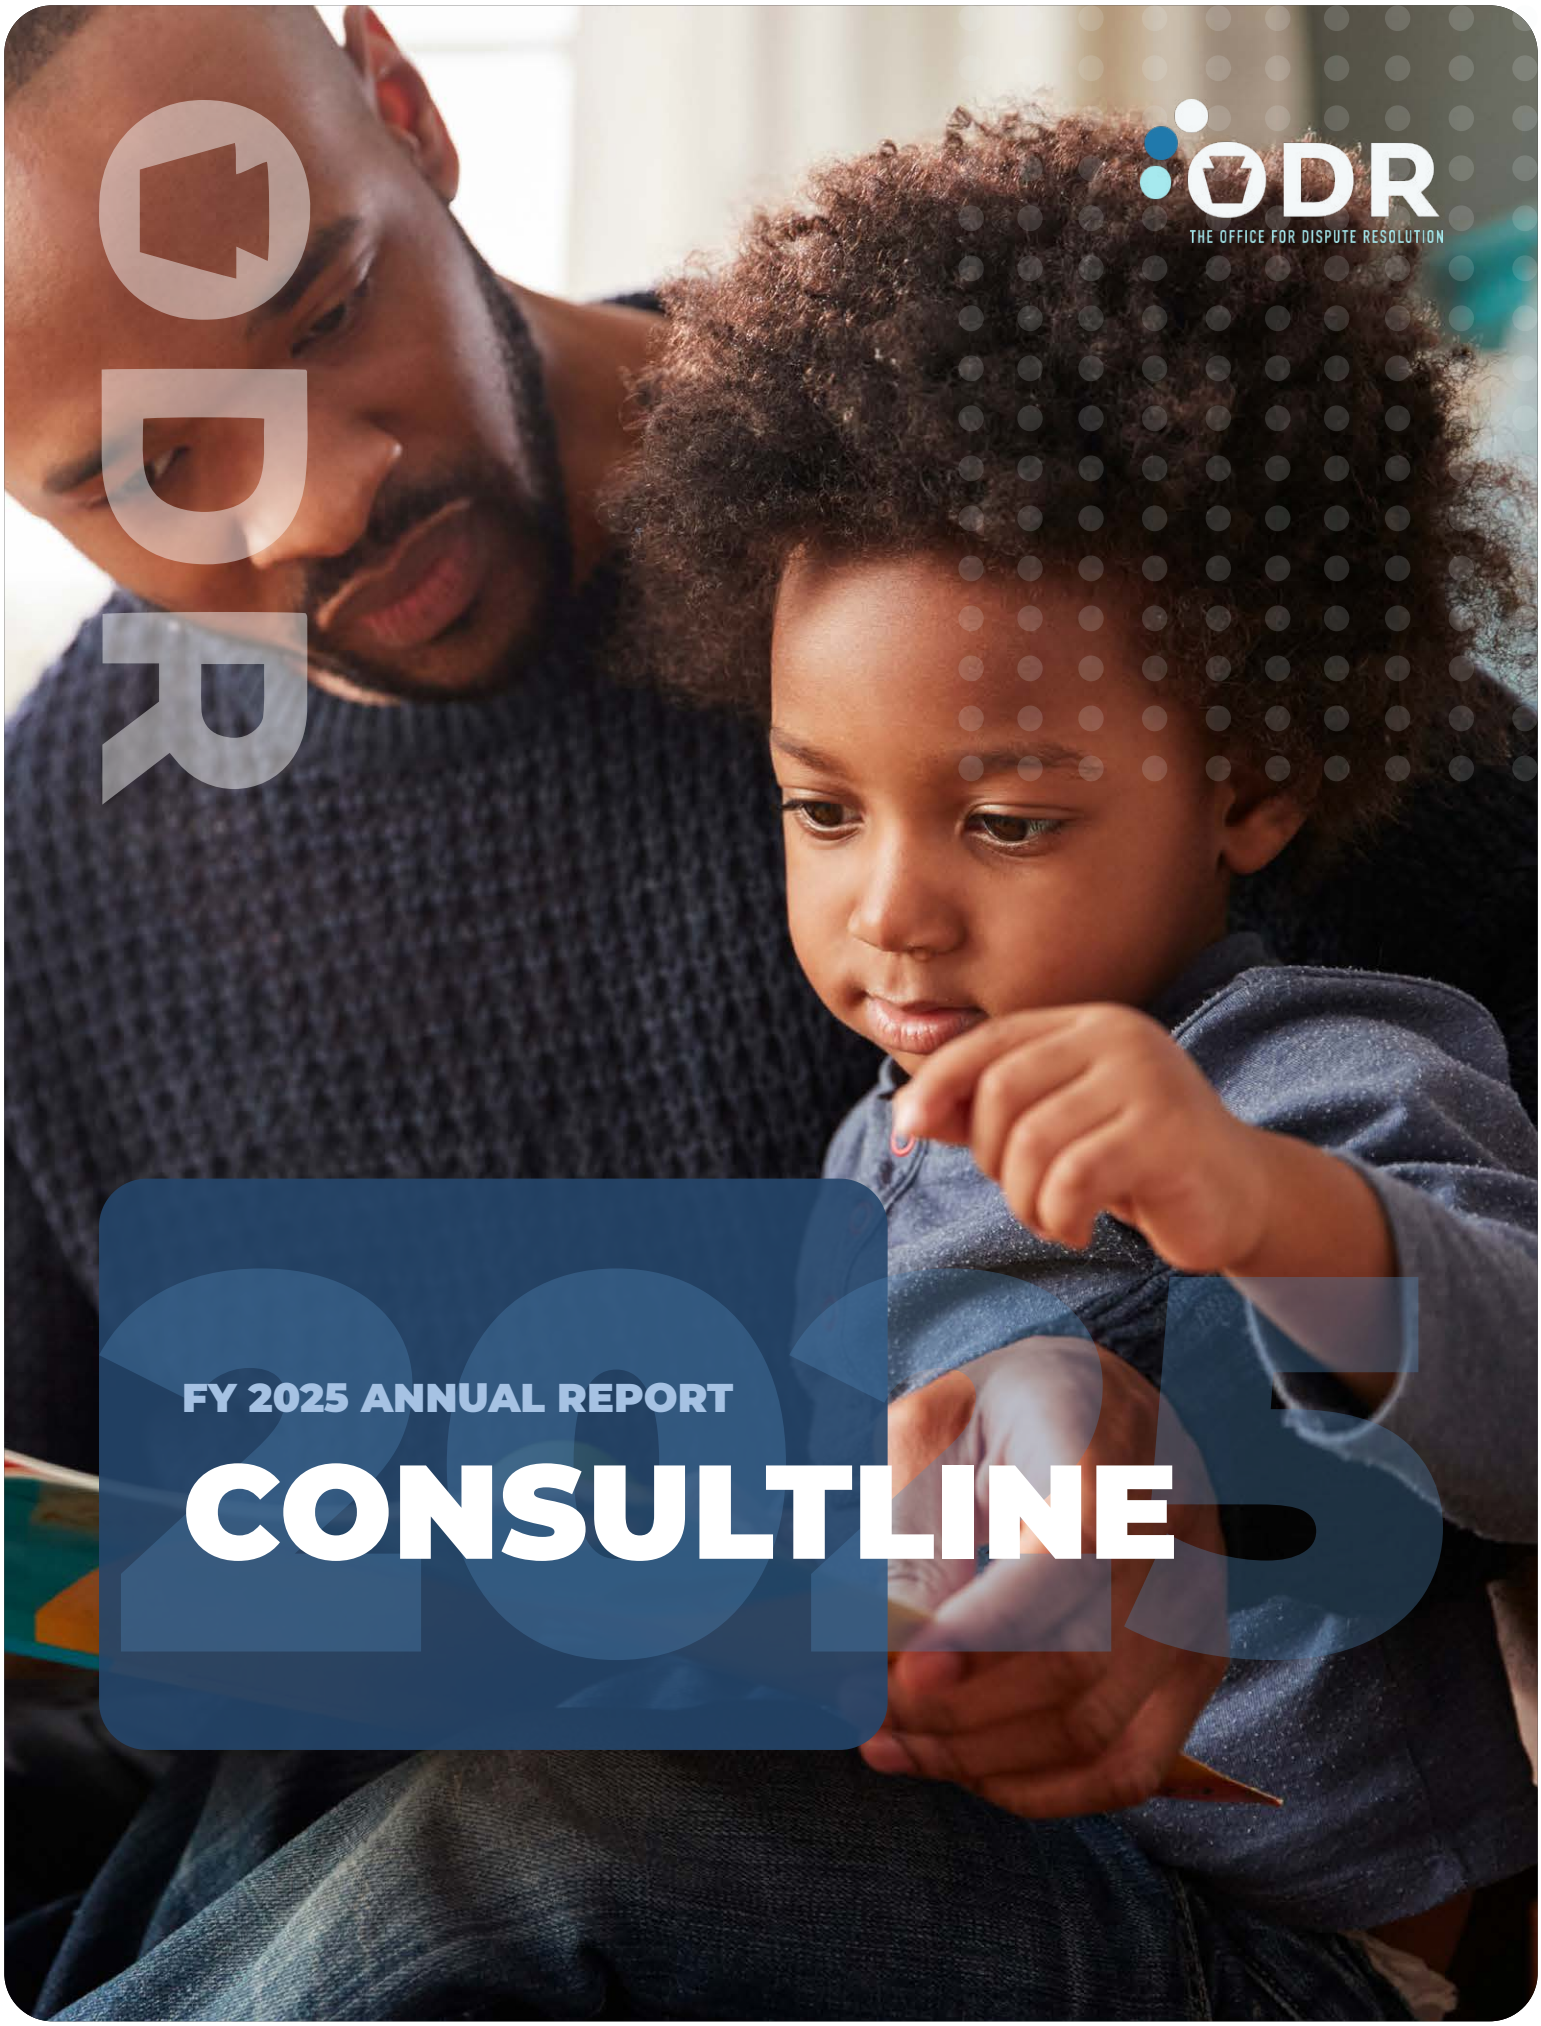

Children Conference (ECC), sponsored by the Pennsylvania Bar Institute and planned by a committee of practitioners in the field of special education law. Many times, ODR hearing officers are asked to present a session and/or facilitate sessions.

Each Hearing Officer must obtain 12 continuing legal education credits a year to remain in good standing with the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Therefore, in addition to their attendance at the ECC conference, Hearing Officers attend trainings through other entities such as the LRP Media Group; the National Association of Hearing Officials (NAHO); Council of Administrators of Special Education (CASE); Center for Appropriate Dispute Resolution in Special Education (CADRE); Education Law Association; as well as other Pennsylvania bar-sponsored conferences.

Hearing Officer Settlement Conferences

Hearing Officer Settlement Conferences (HOSC) have become a permanent part of the resolution landscape and have had a positive impact. Disputes involving HOSCs have overwhelmingly stopped short of due process decisions, speaking to the effectiveness of the process in highly-contentious cases in which definable sticking points block the path to resolution. This is especially encouraging because HOSC is not an effort towards global resolution. Rather, the HOSC process helps parties who are close to agreement but cannot clear certain roadblocks. Given the established nature of the offering and the consistency of the results year-to-year, HOSC data are no longer separately reported.[5]

FY 2025 ANNUAL REPORT
CONSULTLINE
2025

The Special Education ConsultLine is an information helpline for parents and advocates with questions or concerns about special education for school-age children. It is staffed by three Specialists who provide information on special education, gifted education, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The goal of ConsultLine is to empower parents with knowledge so they can make informed decisions about next steps for their child.

ConsultLine Specialists also manage ODR's parent engagement services by providing technical assistance to parents preparing for IEP facilitation, mediation, and/or representing themselves in a due process hearing. They also conduct outreach to families who have requested follow-up after using an ODR service or who participated in a mediation that did not result in a resolution.

ConsultLine provides the following information:

- The processes for having a child evaluated, identified, and provided with special education, accommodations, and related services;
- Parents' rights and procedural safeguards, including information about applicable regulations;
- Dispute resolution options for addressing disagreements about a child's special education program;
- The process and procedures related to a caller's active case involving IEP facilitation, mediation, or a due process hearing;
- Information, assistance, and access to the state complaint process managed by the Pennsylvania Department of Education's Bureau of Special Education (BSE); and
- Resources, publications, websites, and referrals to disability-related organizations.

ConsultLine could be reached by phone, email, online contact form, or ODR's Live Chat website feature[6]. Specialists responded to requests for information by directly calling constituents. To ensure that everyone who requested information had an opportunity to connect with a Specialist, staff attempted to contact each individual three times over the course of three business days. This protocol continued to provide equitable and timely service.

During this fiscal year, Live Chat allowed constituents to ask questions in real time, Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., regarding any ODR service. The Live Chat feature on the ODR website enabled real-time messaging with a ConsultLine Specialist. When a Specialist was unavailable, constituents could submit a ticket through the Live Chat window, and a Specialist followed up with a return phone call. With the exception of one Live Chat encounter, tickets were submitted for all Live Chat interactions. There was only one instance where the conversation took place solely through Live Chat without a ticket being submitted.

Due to low utilization over the previous fiscal years, ODR discontinued the Live Chat feature and it will not be offered in the next fiscal year. ConsultLine Specialists work diligently behind the scenes to ensure all constituents have access to up-to-date, accurate information and resources. Their work includes the following activities:

- Ensuring that Hearing Officer decisions are free of personally identifiable information and meet accessibility standards before being posted on ODR's website;
- Maintaining the Hearing Officer Decisions and Parent Resource Library sections of ODR's website;
- Conducting group presentations, both in-person and virtual, for interested stakeholders on the function, purpose, and services of ODR;
- Managing ODR's publications to ensure they remain current and accessible; and
- Developing short informational videos on topics frequently discussed during ConsultLine calls.

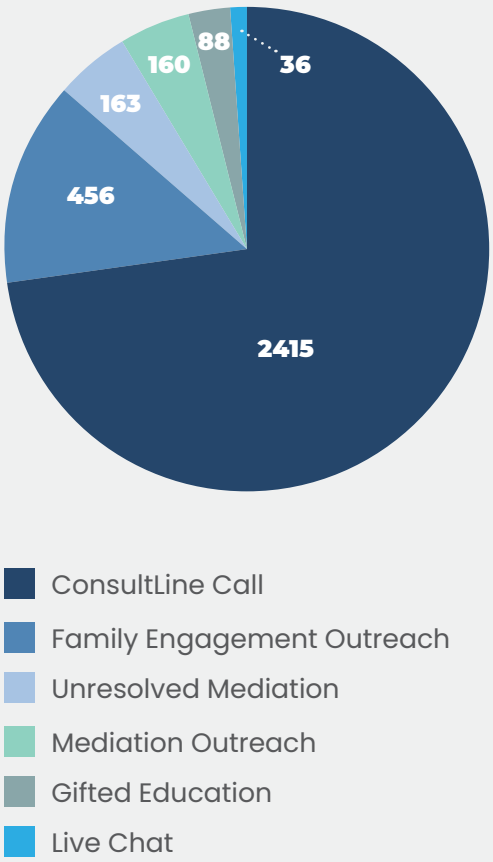

[6] ConsultLine can be reached by phone at 1-800-879-2301, by email at consultline@odr-pa.org or by completing a contact form to request a return phone call.

Call Activity

During FY 2025, ConsultLine Specialists served 3,318 constituents, a 13% increase over the previous year. Services included:

- ConsultLine calls, during which specialists answered questions and provided information to parents and advocates regarding special education concerns;
- Family engagement outreach, assisting parents who had an active facilitation, mediation, or due process hearing and were representing themselves;
- Outreach to parties involved in unresolved mediation sessions (those that did not result in a written agreement) to gather feedback;
- Follow-up calls to respondents from the dispute resolution survey to discuss comments, suggestions, or concerns about their recent ODR service; and
- ODR LiveChat support, where Specialists responded to questions and provided information via the website's chat feature.

ConsultLine Specialists support constituents who speak a language other than English through a third-party interpretation service. In FY 2025, this service was used 43 times to assist individuals in their preferred language. With the help of interpreters, ConsultLine assisted callers who spoke Spanish, Hindi, French, and Vietnamese. The interpretation service was able to work with ODR to assist all constituents in their preferred language.

Caller-Identified Regional Distribution of Inquiries

Callers are not required to provide regional information, but 1,499 callers voluntarily identified their location during FY 2025. The following reflects the distribution of those inquiries based on the locations provided.

TABLE 1: CALLER-IDENTIFIED REGIONAL DISTRIBUTION OF INQUIRIES

INTERMEDIATE UNIT	TOTAL CALLS
Philadelphia Intermediate Unit 26	170
Montgomery County Intermediate Unit 23	130
Capital Area Intermediate Unit 15	121
Allegheny Intermediate Unit 3	115
Delaware County Intermediate Unit 25	104
All Others	859

Types of Inquiries

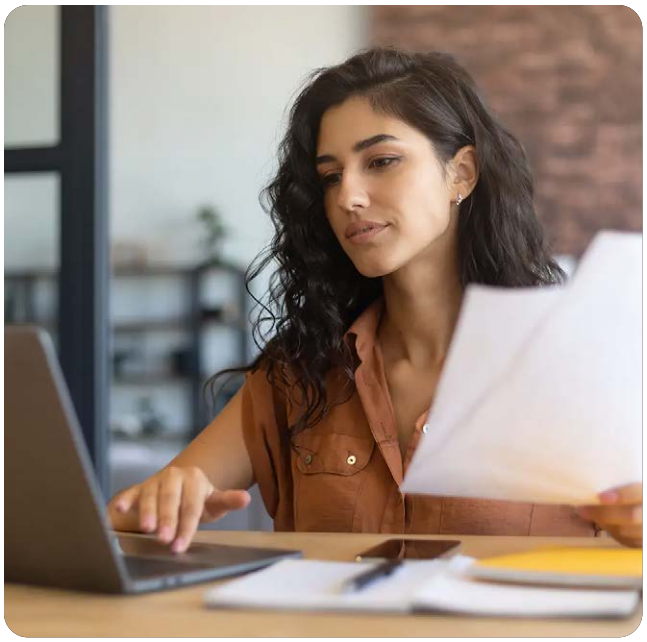

ConsultLine Specialists document the primary topics related to each caller's question(s). In FY 2025, the most frequently recurring topics, listed in order of frequency, included the following:

TABLE 2: MOST FREQUENTLY RECURRING TOPICS FROM CALLERS TO CONSULTLINE

MOST FREQUENTLY RECURRING TOPICS	TOTAL INQUIRIES
Mediation	317
Due Process Hearing	220
IEP Content	188
Advocate	98
IEP Implementation	93

Other high-interest topics included educational placement, the multidisciplinary evaluation process, and eligibility.

Specialists provided publications, forms, web resources, and other materials related to callers' concerns in 1,788 instances. The majority of this information was delivered electronically.

Call Resolution Process and Provision of BSE Complaint Packets

ConsultLine offers information to parents about how to address concerns or file complaints related to special education. ConsultLine's Call Resolution Process (CRP) is an effective dispute resolution tool for addressing compliance-related concerns under IDEA and certain issues related to Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. During a CRP, the Specialist serves as a conduit of information between the parent and the school. As with all calls, regardless of content, the Specialist does not act as an advocate, decision-maker, mediator, or compliance advisor, nor do they attempt to steer parents toward one particular dispute resolution option over another.

The CRP format includes an email summarizing the parent's compliance-related concerns and the parent's proposed resolution. This email is drafted by the Specialist in consultation with the parent to ensure it accurately reflects the parent's concerns. Once finalized, the parent provides verbal consent to send the message to the LEA administrator responsible for special education, the appropriate regional BSE division chief, and the regional BSE advisor. Once the email is sent, the Specialist's involvement in the CRP has concluded, and BSE takes responsibility.

During FY 2025, a CRP was offered to 42 callers and, with the parent's permission, distributed in 27 instances.

Information about the BSE complaint process and the state complaint form is provided to parents when a CRP is offered, as well as upon specific request. In FY 2025, 48 state complaint forms and accompanying information packets were distributed to callers.

Gifted Education

ConsultLine Specialists assist callers with questions or concerns related to Chapter 16 of the Pennsylvania School Code and gifted education. In some cases, callers allege compliance violations. When this occurs, the specialist provides information about the procedural safeguards for gifted education, including the option to file a written complaint. In FY 2025, ConsultLine responded to 88 callers whose concerns were specifically related to gifted education. The most frequently discussed topics included questions about Chapter 16 regulations, gifted multidisciplinary evaluations, and GIEP content.

Professional Development

ConsultLine staff continue to engage in high-quality professional development to stay well-informed and effective in providing accurate information and relevant resources to callers. During FY 2025, staff participated in several professional learning opportunities, including The Weatherly Review: Quarterly Legal Update; CASE Deeper Dive: Discipline Under IDEA; CASE Collective: Leading in Light of Current Circumstances; the Pennsylvania Bar Institute's Exceptional Children Conference; and the CASE 5th Annual Virtual Section 504 Conference. Additionally, one ConsultLine Specialist participated in the Education Policy Leadership Center's Education Policy Fellowship Program.

ConsultLine Feedback

When callers provide contact information, Specialists conclude the service by sending a brief, anonymous evaluation survey via mail or email. The survey includes space for comments and five satisfaction-based questions. Respondents are asked to assess the usefulness of the information provided, the identification of options for resolving concerns, the timeliness of service, and overall satisfaction. In FY 2025, survey results indicated that ConsultLine continues to maintain a high level of satisfaction among constituents.

FY 2025 ANNUAL REPORT
FACILITATION
2025

ODR offers facilitation services for IEP meetings, Individualized Family Service Plan (IFSP) meetings, GIEP meetings, Section 504 meetings, and Resolution Meetings. Facilitation is a state-sponsored dispute resolution option and is not mandated by federal or state law[7]. All facilitation services are voluntary and may only occur when all parties agree to include a neutral third party, a trained facilitator, to support the meeting process.

Resolution Meeting Facilitation

A resolution meeting is required when a parent files a due process complaint, unless both parties agree in writing to waive the meeting or choose to use mediation in lieu of the resolution meeting. If the parties believe that involving a neutral third party could support productive discussion and increase the likelihood of reaching an agreement, they may request a facilitator from ODR. Resolution Meeting Facilitation (RMF) helps parents and school personnel stay focused on the student's needs and work collaboratively toward a resolution, with the possibility existing that completion resolution of the dispute will obviate the need for a due process hearing.

During FY 2025, ODR received 20 requests for Resolution Meeting Facilitation. Of the twenty facilitated meetings held, two resulted in full resolution agreements and three resulted in a partial agreement. Six cases did not result in an agreement, two were withdrawn, and two were declined. There was no response from the parents in two instances, and no response from the LEA in one instance. ODR was unable to locate a facilitator in two circumstances. Only one of the cases proceeded to a fully adjudicated due process hearing.

IEP Facilitation

IEP Facilitation is a voluntary process offered when both parents and school staff agree that a neutral third party could support the IEP meeting. The facilitator helps foster open, respectful communication and guides the team in working collaboratively to develop an appropriate and effective IEP for the student.

Facilitation services are also available for IFSP meetings for birth-3, IEP meetings for preschool students, GIEP meetings for students who are gifted, and meetings for students eligible under Section 504.

[7] As of FY 2024, almost every state in the U.S. offers some form of IEP facilitation as part of their special education dispute resolution options.

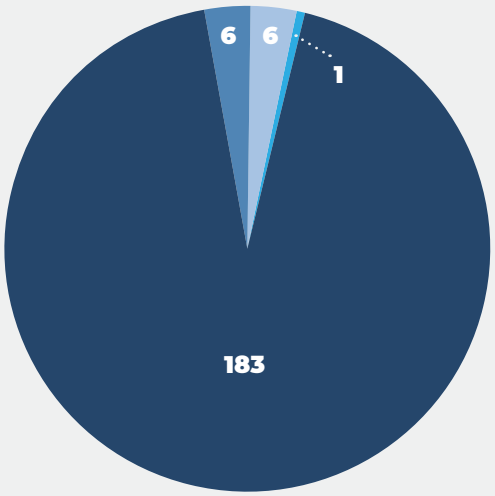

Requests

In FY 2025, ODR received 196 requests for IEP, IFSP, GIEP, or Section 504 facilitation. This is a 41% increase from the previous fiscal year (139). Two of these requests were initiated in the prior fiscal year but closed during FY 2025. As in past years, the vast majority of requests (183) were for IEP meetings for school-aged students. Of the remaining 13 requests, six were for IEP meetings for preschool children aged 3-5, six were for GIEP meetings, and one was for a 504 meeting. No facilitations were requested for birth-3 IFSP meetings.

Outcomes

IDEA IEP Facilitation

Early Intervention Ages Birth-3

There were no requests for Birth-3 IFSP meeting facilitation.

Early Intervention Ages 3-5

There were six requests for IEP facilitation for children ages 3-5. A total of two facilitated IEP meetings were held. Of those meetings, one resulted in a completed IEP and one did not result in a completed IEP, even with the support of a facilitator. Of the remaining four requests, three were withdrawn, and in one instance ODR did not receive a response from the parent.

School Age

In FY 2025, there were 183 requests for IEP facilitation for school-aged students. Two of these were initiated in FY 2024 but completed in FY 2025 for a total of 185 school-aged IEP facilitation requests. A total of 109 facilitated IEP meetings were held. Of those meetings, 79 resulted in a completed IEP, 20 resulted in a partially drafted IEP, and 10 did not result in a completed IEP, even with the support of a facilitator. These outcomes indicate that 91% of the facilitated IEP meetings held during FY 2025 led to either a full or partial IEP draft, a 17% increase from the previous fiscal year. Not all facilitation requests moved forward to a meeting. Of the remaining cases that did not go on to a session, 17 were withdrawn, and in 15 instances the other party declined to participate in the facilitated IEP meeting. In 28 cases, the parent did not respond to the request, and in three cases, the LEA did not respond to the request. In two cases, ODR was unable to locate a facilitator. At the close of the FY 2025 reporting period, 11 IEP facilitation cases remained active.

Gifted Education

There were six requests for GIEP facilitation during FY 2025. A total of two facilitated GIEP meetings were held. Of those meetings, one resulted in a completed GIEP and one did not result in a completed GIEP, even with the support of a facilitator. Of the remaining four requests, two were withdrawn, and in two instances ODR did not receive a response from the LEA.

Section 504

There were no requests for 504 meeting facilitation.

TABLE 4: FACILITATION FEEDBACK

"The process was easy to navigate. I most appreciated [case manager] continuing to follow up with both parties since the parents were hesitant about the process. It was a very quick turn around, and I am thankful [facilitator] was able to attend. [Facilitator's] facilitation at the meeting was very beneficial for communicating what the school was recommending."

"[Facilitator] was a pleasure to work with, [facilitator] was helpful and supportive to the IEP team."

"I think the facilitator did a great job letting the team lead the meeting but jumping in when necessary to ensure we were staying focused on the goals."

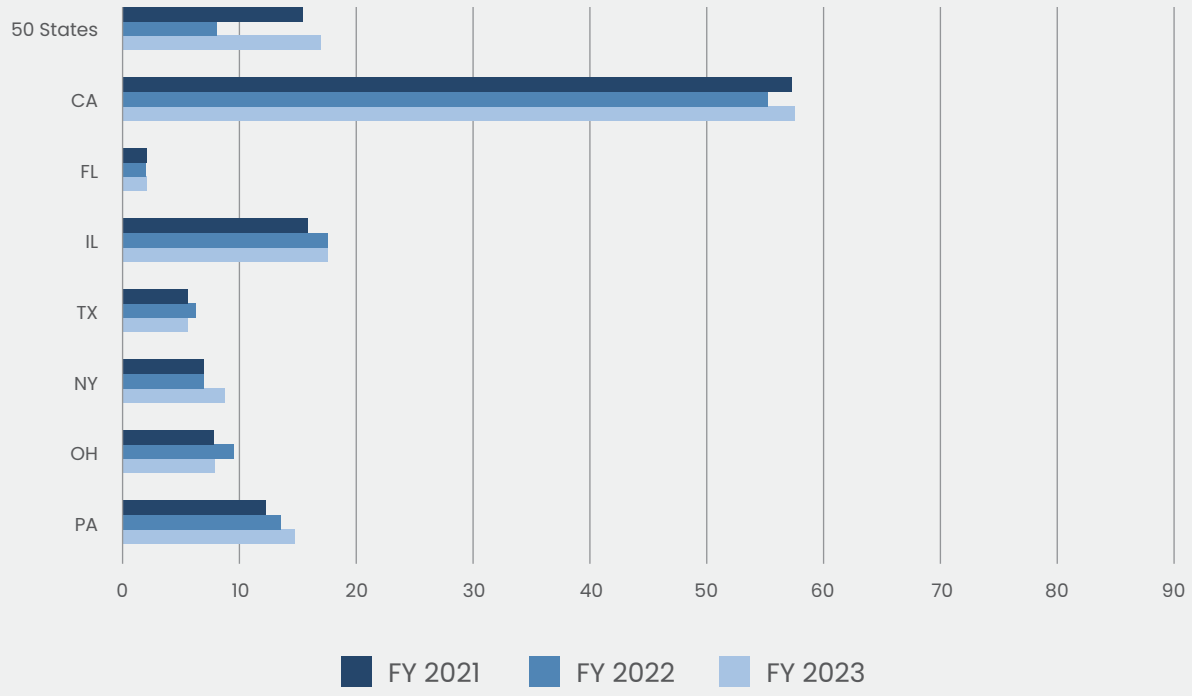

"[Facilitator] was a wonderful support to both the parents and the school and helped us repair the relationship."

MEDIATION
2025

Pennsylvania is a member of the 7-PAK Consortium of Large States[8], which encompasses the seven states with the largest number of children and students receiving special education services. While strict comparisons cannot be made among all states in the country, looking at states with similar characteristics to Pennsylvania provides some insight. When comparing Pennsylvania to the 7-PAK, the Commonwealth's rate of dispute resolution activity is comparable, as is evident in the following three comparison charts,[9] which show the most recent three years of federally collected data available.

[8] In addition to Pennsylvania, the other members of the 7-PAK are California, Florida, Illinois, New York, Ohio, and Texas.
[9] The following three comparison charts are used with permission by Sigma Management Group, LLC. The underlying statistical data used to construct these charts were compiled by CADRE and are located in Appendix 1.

Mediation Outreach and Training

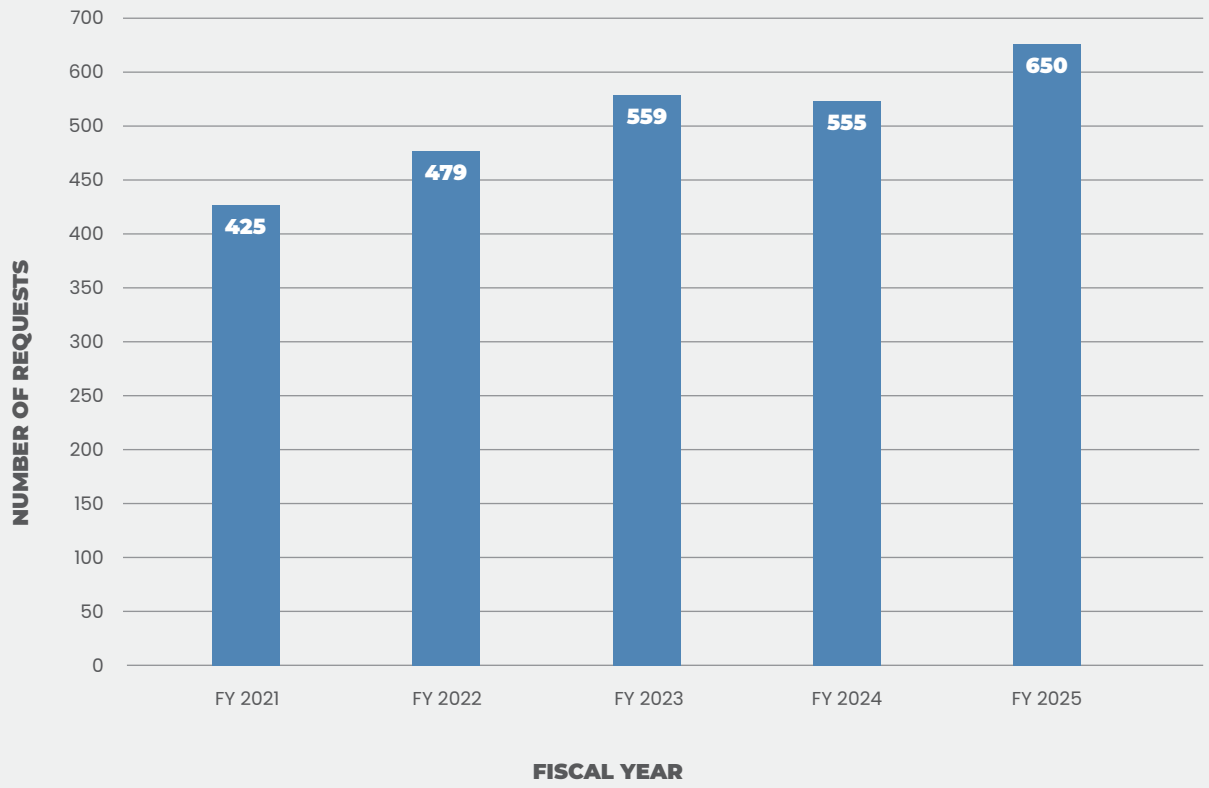

During FY 2025, ODR continued its efforts to raise awareness about mediation and highlight the benefits of the service. No-cost information sessions about ODR services, including mediation, were offered to LEAs, universities, and parent organizations.

To ensure the delivery of high-quality mediation services, ODR's contracted mediators participated in professional development activities throughout the year focused on both special education law and effective mediation practices. In FY 2025, an ODR Hearing Officer presented on IDEA Part B and Section 504, a gifted special education advisor from the Bureau of Special Education provided training in gifted education, and a division chief from the Bureau of Early Intervention Services & Family Support presented on IDEA Part C. Additionally, mediators received training on writing effective mediation agreements, attended the Pennsylvania Council of Mediators Conference, and participated in quarterly Community of Practice meetings with their peers.

Summary of Mediation Data

During FY 2025, there were 650 requests for mediation. Additionally, there were 72 requests initiated during FY 2024 but closed in FY 2025. This brings the total number of requests, including rollover cases initiated in the previous fiscal year (but closed during this fiscal year), to 722. This is an increase of 17% in requests from the previous fiscal year, which may be a result of the efforts to raise awareness of this dispute resolution option.

Eighty-five percent of mediation requests this fiscal year (566) involved school age students with disabilities. A small number of these requests (19) were for students who were twice exceptional, meaning they were eligible for both special education and gifted education. There were 35 requests for children aged 3-5 and one request for a child aged birth-3. Requests for students participating in only gifted education programs comprised 37 of all mediation requests, and 11 requests were for Section 504/protected handicapped students.

Mediation Requests by Intermediate Unit

There were few changes in the distribution of mediation requests by Intermediate Unit from the previous fiscal years. The four maps of the Commonwealth below (Figures 10, 11, 12, and 13) demonstrate the consistency in statistics in requests from FY 2022 to the present time. It is not unexpected that the greater number of mediation requests are made in the IUs that are more densely populated.

Mediation is a voluntary process, and therefore, neither families nor LEAs are obligated to agree to participate, nor are they required to report the reason for their refusal to participate. This makes it challenging to assess why mediation is utilized in some instances and not others.

The following information includes requests for all ODR mediation services, including Birth–3, school-age, 504-only, and gifted.

Mediations Held Without Agreement

When mediation is held but the parties are unable to reach a written agreement, ConsultLine staff follow up with participants to better understand why the mediation did not result in resolution and to provide information about other available dispute resolution options. The majority of respondents report that the parties were each entrenched in their respective positions and couldn't reach compromise. This feedback is used to inform training and professional development for mediators.

In FY 2025, there were 23 mediations held that had a related due process complaint active at the same time as the mediation session. Ninety-six percent of the time, mediation helped the parties reach a resolution without the need for a fully adjudicated decision. Sixty-five percent (15) fifteen of those resulted in a signed mediation agreement, thereby eliminating the need for a due process hearing. Another 30% (7) did not result in a due process decision, indicating that the due process complaints were either withdrawn or resolved through an agreement between the parties. One did not come to an agreement and resulted in a fully adjudicated hearing with a Hearing Officer decision.

Parties frequently report to ODR that after their unsuccessful mediation session, the parties continue discussions and end up coming to an agreement outside of mediation. These responses support what mediators report and what the mediations related to due process data above supports, which is that even when parties are unable to reach agreement at the mediation session, settlement is still a possibility afterwards.

While these forms of agreement are not counted as mediation agreements, they demonstrate that mediations may look "unsuccessful" as reported, but frequently move the disputes forward toward resolution.

Evaluative Mediation

In addition to facilitative mediation, ODR offers evaluative mediation. In facilitative mediation, the mediator guides the parties toward common ground without offering opinions or evaluations. The mediator does not assess the strength or weakness of either party's position but instead supports open communication and mutual understanding.

In evaluative mediation, the mediator still uses facilitative techniques but may also ask more directive questions and provide feedback or suggestions for the parties to consider. The mediator may help the parties explore possible outcomes and discuss how a Hearing Officer might view the issues.

In FY 2025, there were 242 requests for evaluative mediation and 34 requests that were initiated in FY 2024 but closed in FY 2025. There was an increase of 126% in the number of requests made in FY 2025 compared to FY 2024. Like facilitative mediation, evaluative mediation is voluntary. If the parties do not agree to evaluative mediation, they may still proceed with facilitative mediation.

Of the 276 requests, 159 evaluative mediation sessions were held, and 69% (110) of those resulted in a signed agreement. Forty-nine sessions were held but did not come to an agreement. Of the remaining cases, 37 were declined by the other party, 47 were withdrawn, 30 were still active at the end of the reporting period, and in three instances, no response from parents were received when an LEA requested this service.

Virtual and In-Person Mediation

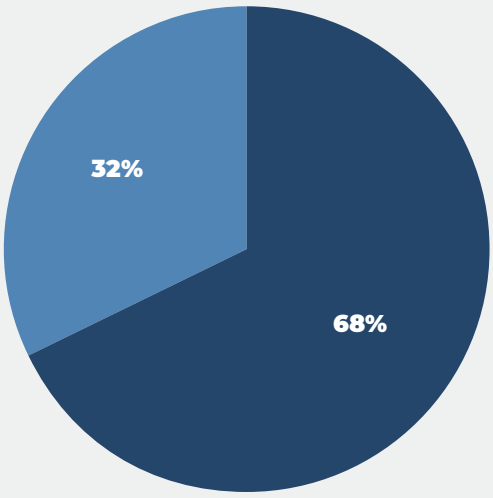

ODR offers the option of both in-person and virtual mediation. Parties can select the meeting mode they prefer.

Of the mediations requested in FY 2025, 84% were conducted virtually. This figure does not include cases initiated in FY 2024 but closed in FY 2025. Virtual participation offers greater scheduling flexibility and can be more convenient for families who may otherwise face barriers to attending an in-person mediation.

Of the virtual mediations requested during FY 2025, 68% resulted in a signed agreement. In contrast, 71% of in-person mediations resulted in a signed agreement during the same time period. ODR has observed that parties sometimes allocate less time for virtual mediations. To address this, ODR encourages all parties to allow sufficient time for the full mediation process to occur, and has updated its scheduling procedures to ensure adequate time is allotted for each session.

Attorney Participation

Mediation in Pennsylvania underwent a significant change in March 2021 with the introduction of attorney participation under certain circumstances. Since the inception of Pennsylvania's special education mediation program in 1986, attorneys had not been permitted to attend or participate in mediation in any capacity. In FY 2020, the Special Education Advisory Panel endorsed a change to this long-standing policy, recommending that the Commonwealth adopt the same approach to attorney participation used in resolution meetings. This decision was consistent with practices in most other states.

Requests in FY 2025

If a family chooses to bring an attorney to mediation, the LEA may also bring legal counsel. If the family opts not to bring counsel, the LEA is not permitted to bring counsel. Notably, prior to this change, Pennsylvania was one of only four states that did not permit attorney participation in mediation.

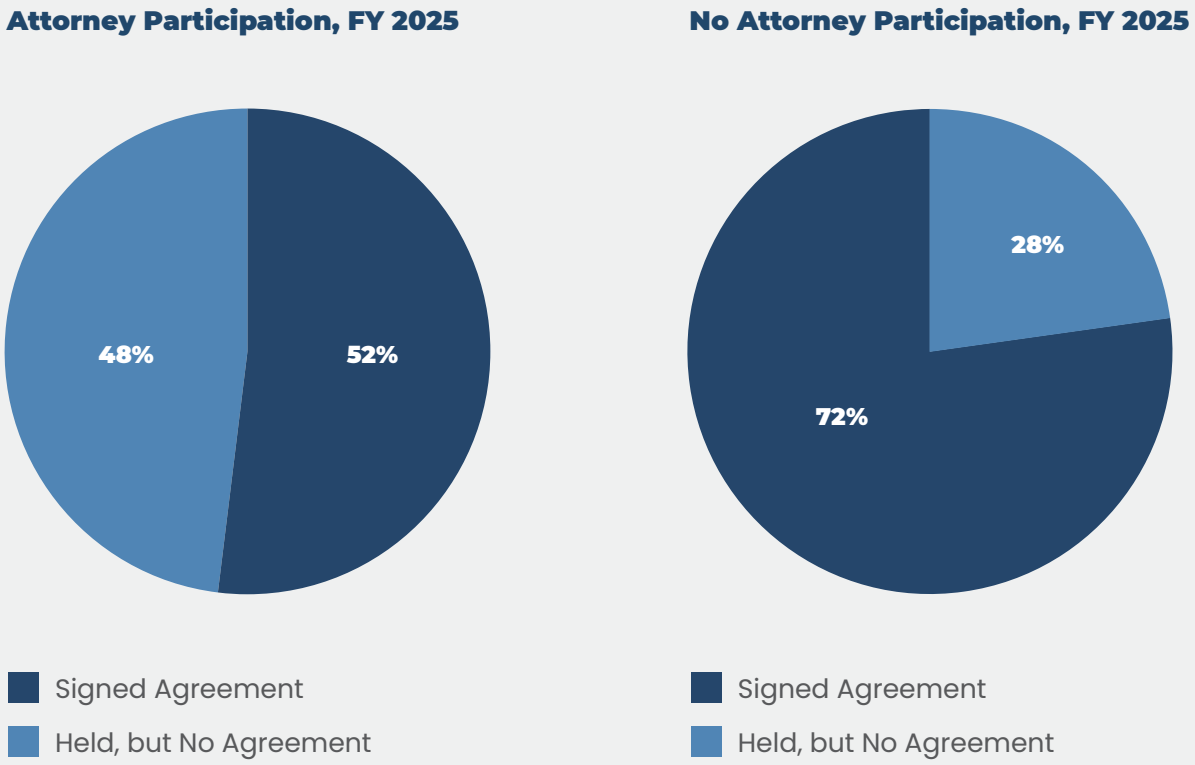

As shown in Figure 19, 17% (111) of the mediation requests submitted in FY 2025 involved parties who were represented by an attorney, while in 83% (539), parties remained unrepresented. This demonstrates that parents continue to utilize mediation in most instances without legal representation. However, for those who choose to bring an attorney, that option is now available. A key strength of this mediation model is that it offers parents flexibility and choice in how they participate.

Of the mediations held in FY 2025, 23 included attorney participation, with 52% of these resulting in a signed agreement. This figure does not include cases initiated in FY 2024 but closed in FY 2025.

Of the mediations held in FY 2025 that did not involve attorney participation, 72% resulted in a signed agreement. This pattern has remained consistent since attorney participation was introduced: higher agreement rates are observed when attorneys are not present. It is important to note, however, that this reflects only the agreement rates, not the quality or satisfaction associated with the agreements reached. Further, and as noted above, many post-mediation agreements are not counted as "mediation agreements."

Pre-Mediation Outreach and Mediation Outcomes

In March 2021, when attorneys were first permitted to participate in mediation, ODR implemented a requirement for pre-mediation outreach in cases involving represented parties. This addition was made to address concerns that attorney fees might pose a barrier to reaching a mediation agreement. Mediators were asked to discuss fee-related expectations with the attorneys in advance, with the goal of resolving the issue prior to the mediation session. For mediations involving unrepresented parties, pre-mediation outreach remains optional.

In FY 2025, when pre-mediation outreach was completed and a mediation session was held, the agreement rate was 67%.

Among mediations involving only unrepresented parties, the agreement rate was 69% when pre-mediation outreach occurred.

TABLE 10: MEDIATION FEEDBACK

"[Mediator] was an excellent mediator who took the time to understand and listen to both parties. Though the session ran long, [Mediator] was patient and able to resolve it in one session."

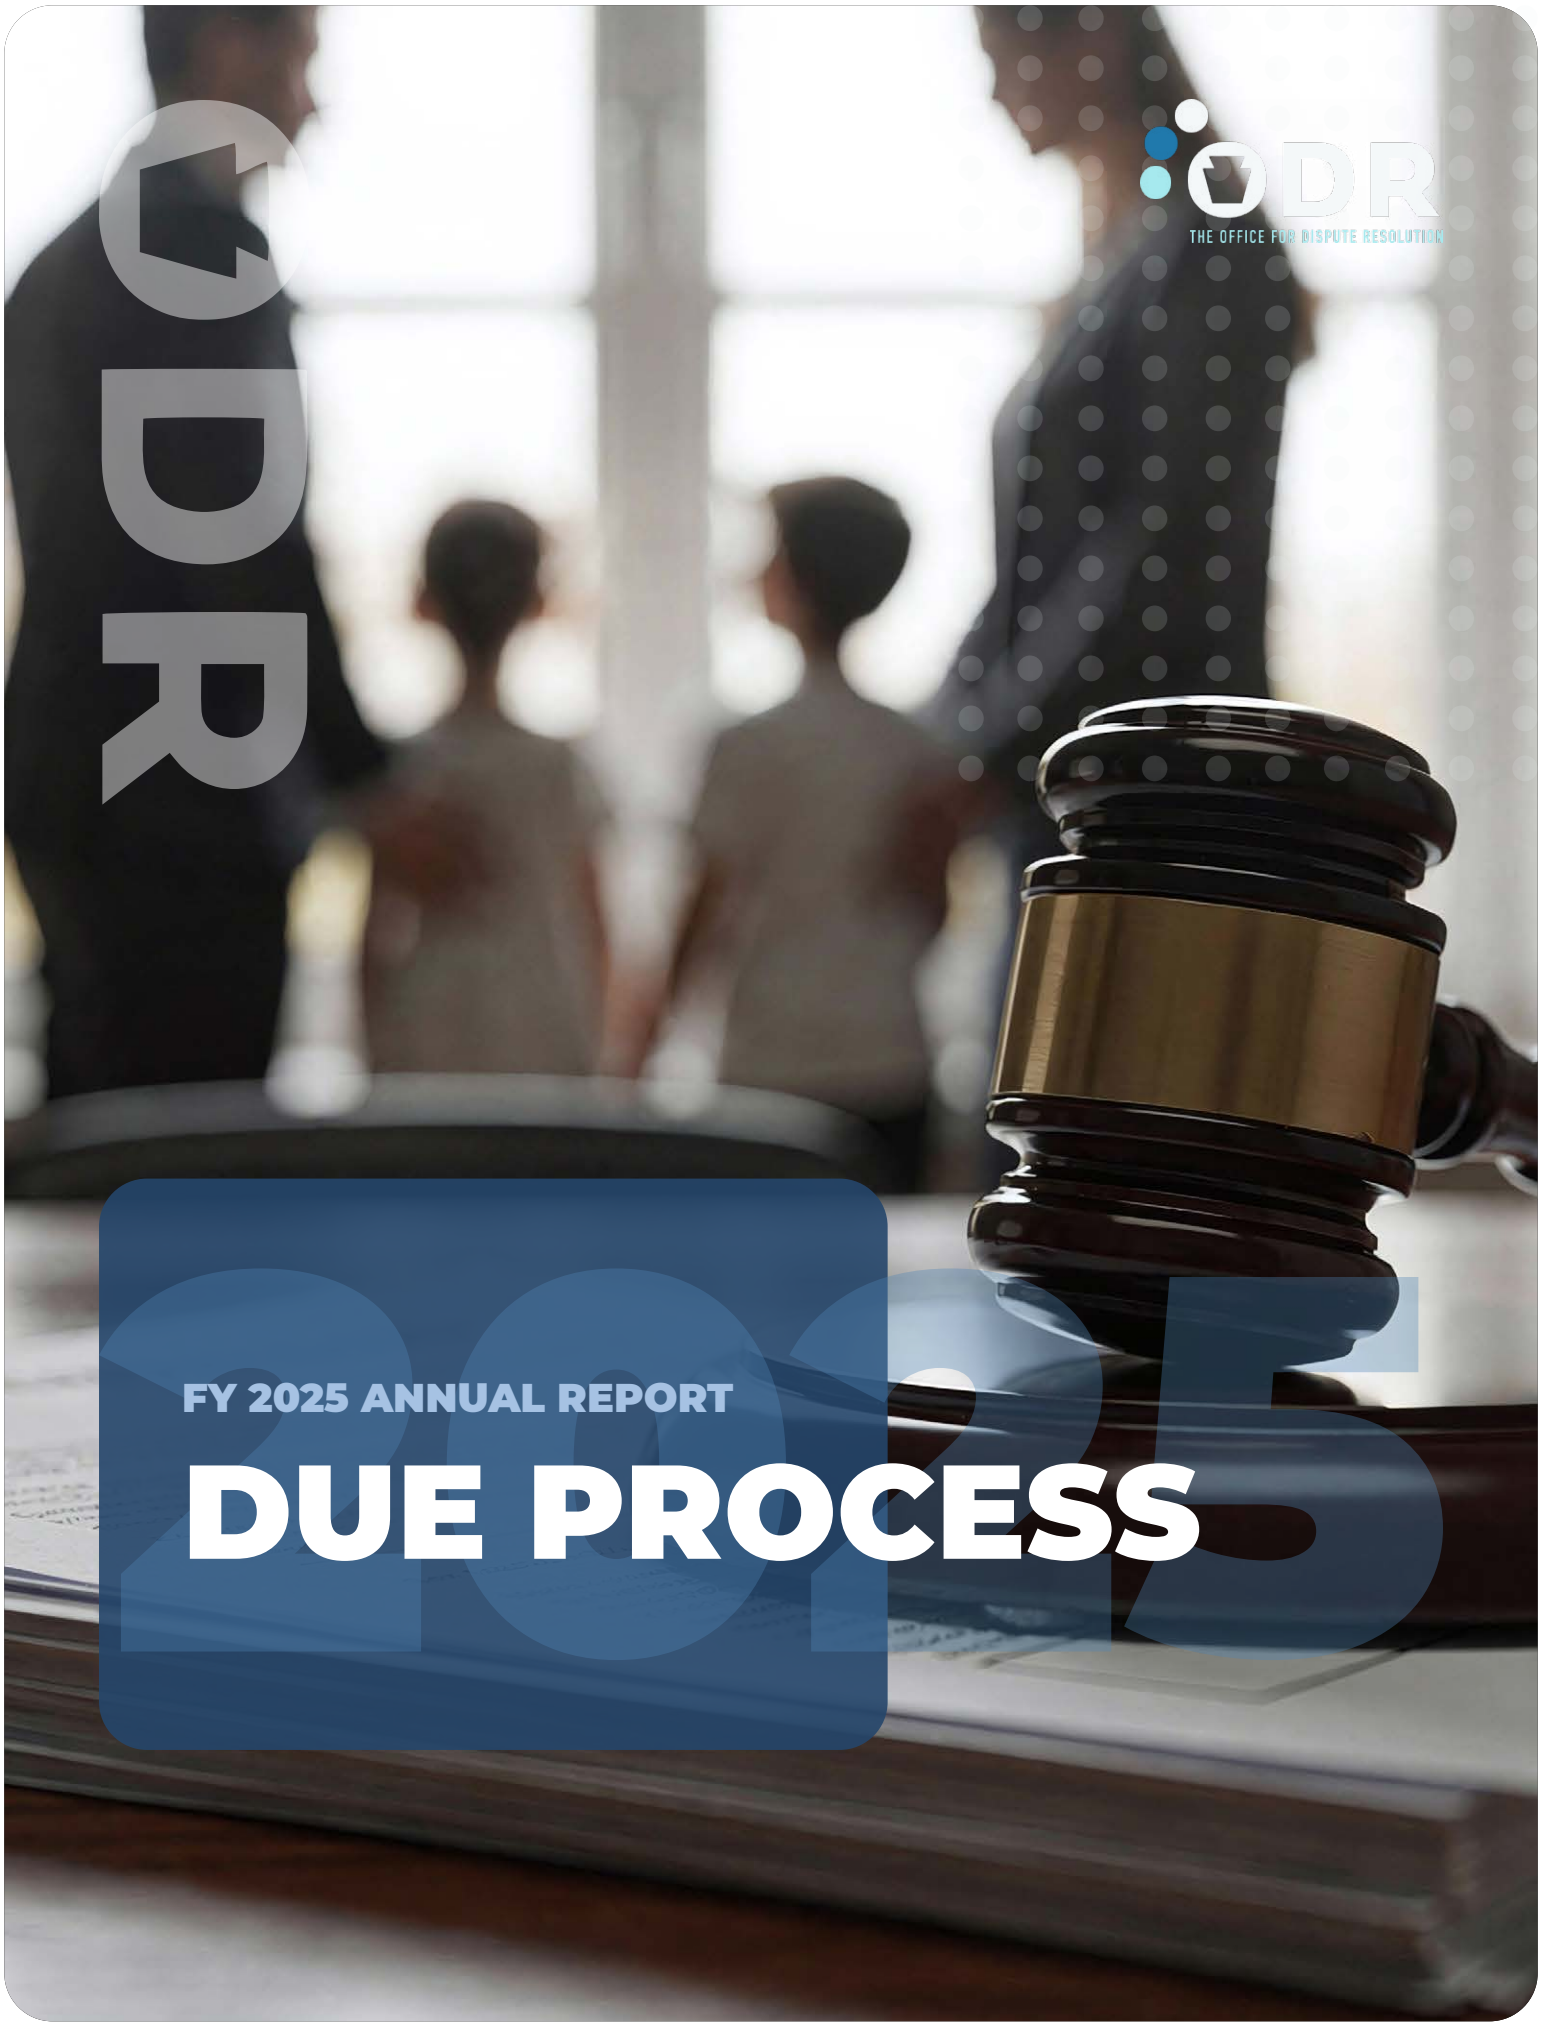

"[Mediator] was a terrific collaborator and helped make the process smooth and meaningful."

"It was extremely helpful that [Mediator] asked to speak with me ahead of time to understand the issues. He also asked to review pertinent records, which greatly facilitated resolution."

"I appreciate this process and have valued the expertise of today's mediator. [Mediator] had a lot of knowledge of gifted education that was valuable to the school district team and family."

"Thank you for the opportunity to provide feedback on the recent mediation process. Regarding suggestions for improvement, we have no further recommendations at this time, as the proceedings were handled with the utmost efficiency and care. We would like to specifically commend [Mediator] for [the] role as the mediator. [The] approach was exceptionally professional and collaborative, creating an environment where all parties felt heard and respected. [Mediator's] ability to navigate complex dynamics with such poise was instrumental in the process. Most importantly, [Mediator's] expertise allowed us to resolve the concerns brought forth in a timely and effective manner. We are very pleased with the resolution and truly appreciated [the mediator's] guidance throughout."

DUE PROCESS

Parents or educational agencies may resolve educational disputes through a formal, court-like proceeding called a due process hearing. Due process hearings differ from other dispute resolution opportunities in that a Hearing Officer determines the outcome for the parties instead of the parties coming to their own agreement. Throughout the due process proceedings, resolution through mediation and facilitation remains available to the parties, as does Hearing Officer Settlement Conferences. In addition, during the proceedings, the parties may settle some or all of the issues among themselves at any time, and in most instances, do so.

Due Process Requests

Beginning with the Annual Report for FY 2020, ODR began reporting data from CADRE[11], the national technical assistance center on special education dispute resolution, in order to deepen the understanding of dispute resolution across the country and Pennsylvania's standing in the national picture. CADRE's national data collection—which is current through FY 2023—demonstrates that special education dispute resolution activity nationwide is not monolithic. There are vast differences between and among all states based on both child count and activity. Despite Pennsylvania's size, the Commonwealth's rate of due process is comparable to the nation's average and is not an outlier.

Pro Se Parents

"Pro se" is the term for parties who represent themselves in due process hearings. In Pennsylvania, historically, attorneys have represented families in most due process hearings. In FY 2025, about 26% of due process complaints were filed by pro se parents or guardians. The following table lists information regarding due process complaints filed by pro se parents during the reporting period. The number of pro se parent requests are a subset of the total number of requests received. Results of pro se parent cases appear in the Due Process Outcomes section below.

Five-Year Retrospective of Due Process by Age Group

ODR categorizes requests by age group and service category. In most years, there are no requests for the Birth-3 age group. The following bar charts reflect the annual fluctuation in due process requests with the other age groups and service categories.

Frequency of Due Process Across the Commonwealth

For the past twenty years, due process activity has been predominantly centered in the southeastern part of the Commonwealth and FY 2025 is no exception. The four maps of the Commonwealth below (Figures 28, 29, 30, and 31) illustrate the frequency of due process requests by county from FY 2022 to the present.[12]

Requests/Issues by Intermediate Unit and LEA.[13]

[13] On Appendix 4, if an active case lists an issue, this means it is a reinstatement of a previous due process request; otherwise, active cases in Appendix 4 do not list issues. At the conclusion of a due process case, the Hearing Officer reports to ODR the issues that were actually litigated during the hearing.

Hearing Officer Decisions (FY 2025 Requests)

The Hearing Officers wrote 77 decisions on requests received during FY 2025. After a decision is issued, the Hearing Officer categorizes the result for purposes of the Annual Report. This is not a precise calculation; the Hearing Officer has to use his or her best judgment in assessing whether the decision supports the parent or the LEA. The following charts show a summary of those decisions, followed by a breakdown by service group and pro se involvement.

Appeals to the State and Federal Court

During FY 2025, ODR certified the record in 26 appeals to federal court and one appeal to state court. Only two of these appeals pertained to FY 2025 requests for hearing, with the balance pre-dating the reporting period. Parents accounted for 70% of the total number of records that ODR certified[15]. Three of the appeals were limited to attorneys fees. At the close of the reporting period, 19 cases were still in progress. The Court affirmed the Hearing Officer's decision in four instances. In three instances, the Court dismissed the cases due to party settlement, and in one instance, the Court stayed the proceedings until an agreement could be finalized at the school district's upcoming board meeting.
